

Goosenecks State Park © Glauserb | Dreamstime.com

WHAT'S YOUR WATER STORY? Join us for FREE activities!

JUNE 4 – OCTOBER 29, 2022 Enjoy three EXHIBITIONS in Monticello!

Canyon Country Discovery Center
1117 N Main Street, Monticello, UT
435.587.2156
www.ccdiscovery.org

Tuesday-Saturday, 10am - 5pm

- H2O Today is a traveling Smithsonian exhibition that explores the beauty and essential nature of water, our planet's lifeblood. Through immersive content, interactives, and digital media, the exhibition explores the diversity and challenges of our global water sources, as well as Utah's unique relationship with water. What does water mean to you?
- Explore the hands-on learning stations at Canyon Country Discovery Center to learn about the water cycle and how water directly impacts and changes the Four Corners landscape.
- H2Oh How Miraculous shows the wonders of water, its unique properties, and ways to conserve it! See this exhibit at the Monticello Branch Public Library (80 N Main Street, Monticello).

JUNE 4, 2022 H2O Today Exhibition Opening & Humanities in the Wild with Craig Childs & Bertram Tsavadawa

5:00pm

Join Canyon Country Discovery Center, Utah Humanities, and our community partners to open H2O Today and welcome the Smithsonian to Monticello! As part of the opening, we welcome you for a Humanities in the Wild short, guided walk and discussion with author Craig Childs and Hopi guide Bertram Tsavadawa.

JUNE 23, 2022 "River Out of Time" Film Screening and Discussion with Filmmakers

7:00pm - 9:00pm

Join us for a panel discussion and exclusive showing of the new film, "A River Out of Time," which shares the story of John Wesley Powell's 1869 survey of the Colorado River Basin, and the same trip 150 years later to reevaluate his legacy, and articulate what the future may hold for water in the American West.

JUNE 28, 2022 Utah Water Ways with Greg Smoak, Utah Scholar for H2O Today

6:00 - 8:00pm

Join Greg Smoak (University of Utah American West Center) to learn how Utah is land of scarcity and plenty, and how those extremes have shaped our relationship to water.

JULY 14, 2022 Drop-in Family Activity | Water & Watercolor Landscapes with the Utah Museum of Fine Arts

1:00pm - 3:00pm

Try your hand at painting landscapes and waterscapes that tell your water story. We will use water from natural sources, make our own watercolors, and see how salt makes special effects on our paintings.

JULY 22, 2022 Protecting Archaeological Sites with Elizabeth Hora (Utah State Historic Preservation Office)

6:00 - 8:00pm

For at least 13,000 years, humans have called Utah home. Many different cultures and traditions were born here, passed through here, and are currently practiced across the state. Join public archaeologist Elizabeth Hora to learn about sophisticated ancient water control structures and the importance of their protection.

AUGUST 3, 2022 Water Conservation | Community Conversation with Caitlin McDonald

6:00pm - 8:00pm

Water – its scarcity, quality, fair allocation, use – can provoke good and sometimes hard questions. Join Caitlin McDonald (Utah Humanities) for a facilitated conversation about water in our community.

AUGUST 13, 2022 Dark Sky Discovery Series | Saturn, the Moon, and a Meteor Shower

8:30pm - 10:00pm

Tonight are some of the best views of Saturn that we get all year. We also have a near-full moon and the largest meteor shower of the year. Come enjoy these wonders and discuss the importance of water "out there" and what water means to the exploration of our moon and solar system. It's an action packed night!

OCTOBER 1, 2022 Dark Sky Discovery Series | International Observe the Moon Night

6:00pm - 8:00pm

It's that time of year again! Come enjoy the Moon viewed through our large telescope and take a few pictures for yourself. With the Artemis missions return to the moon we will also talk about the possibility of water on the moon and what that means for the future!

Please check with the venue for the latest on mask and social distancing recommendations. Thank you!

H2O Today is an exhibition created by the Smithsonian Institution and brought to you by Utah Humanities and Canyon Country Discover Center. These events are part of Think Water Utah, a statewide collaboration and conversation on the critical topic of water presented by Utah Humanities and its partners.

WWW.UTAHHUMANITIES.ORG | #ThinkWaterUtah #MyWaterStory

