Journey Stories is a traveling Smithsonian Museum on Main Street exhibition that explores how migration and transportation built our nation, how it has changed us, and how our mobile world looked to travelers along the way. From Native Americans to new American citizens and regardless of our background, everyone has a journey story... what's yours?

Library Hours: Mon-Thurs 7:30am - 12:00am, Fri 7:30am - 7:00pm, Sat 12:00 - 6:00pm, Sun 5:00 - 11:00pm

Going This Way looks at the traditions and implications of American vacation travel, its ties with leisure and risk, and its shaping of American identity. These artists invite us to consider not where we go, but how we go. Exhibition curated by Kelly Brooks in the Main Gallery.

*Gallery Hours: Wed-Fri 3:00 - 6:00pm,
Sat 12:00 - 3:00pm*

By Car, By Plane, By Boat, By Train. From the invention of the wheel to the first space flight, the compulsion to travel further, higher, faster, deeper has resulted in a multitude of mechanized vehicles and vessels. This exhibition explores the obsession to motate, and showcases assemblage contraptions which reinterpret modes of transportation on land, in the air, and at sea. Exhibition curated by Adam Larsen in the CCA Christensen Gallery.

Swapping Stories: Come share your journey stories! Take an artwork made by someone else, as long as you replace it with a work of your own. Interactive activity in the Main Gallery Upper Level.
